

Resilient Livelihood for Earthquake-Affected Families of Rukum West (RELIEF) Project

Objective:

The project's overall objective is to improve the food security and livelihood of earthquake-affected communities, particularly women, through climate-resilient agriculture, promotion of local enterprises, and enhancing marketing access.

Target population:

The target population of the project is poor and vulnerable households, migrant workers, and marginalized and underprivileged women affected by earthquakes.

Thematic area:

The project mainly works under three main thematic areas: i.e

- (i) Climate resilient livelihood
- (ii) Gender equality and women empowerment
- (iii) Disaster Risk Reduction (DRR)

Geographic coverage:

The project is currently operating in Sanibheri Rural Municipalities—1 & 2, Rukum West, Karnali Province.

Image1: Women farmers using corn seller

Image2: Farmers taking AIESA in potato FFS

Image3: Farmer transplanting cauliflower in main field

Image4: Agriculture and livestock insurance workshop